Applying for an Australia Awards scholarship

Australia Awards scholarships in Myanmar

Australia's international development assistance in Myanmar aims to support Myanmar's process of political, social and economic reform. The Australian aid program in Myanmar focuses on enhancing human development by improving the quality of education; promoting peace and stability; addressing the needs of conflict and disaster affected people, and promoting inclusive economic growth and government management.

Australia Awards scholarships are prestigious international awards offered by the Australian Government to the next generation of global leaders for development. Through study and research, recipients develop the skills and knowledge to drive change and help build enduring people-to-people links with Australia.

In Myanmar, Australia Awards scholarships are available for Masters level study only.

Applicants are assessed on their professional and personal qualities, academic competence and, most importantly, their potential to impact on development challenges in Myanmar.

Applications are strongly encouraged from women, people with disability, people from ethnic minority groups and people have not previously received a long-term International scholarship.

Priority fields of study

The priority areas of study for Myanmar are:

Human development with an emphasis on quality education including, but not limited to:

- Education and Training, Education Management, Human Resource Development

Peace, governance and humanitarian assistance including, but not limited to:

- Humanitarian Support, Disaster Management, Development Studies, Public Policy, and International Relations

Inclusive economic growth, private sector development and government management including, but not limited to:

- Economics, Business, Agriculture, Governance and Natural Resource Management, including Mining.

Cross-cutting themes will also be considered. These could include disability, gender equity, and climate change.

Study in other areas that are important for the development of Myanmar, following Myanmar's reform priorities and DFAT's Aid Investment Plan, will also be considered.

The governments of Australia and Myanmar regularly review these areas of study together and adjust the emphasis of the program.

Australia Awards benefits

- be at least 18 years of age,
- be applying for courses that fall within the areas of development priority (see “Priority fields of study” above), and

Application Tips

- In Myanmar, Australia Awards scholarships are for Masters level study only.
- Please do not submit more than one application. For instance, if you have submitted an application on OASIS, do not submit a hard copy application.
- OASIS applications are preferred, although applicants will not be penalised for email or hard copy applications. If you have issues uploading documents on OASIS, we suggest trying a different internet browser or a different computer.
- Each course at an Australian university has its own CRICOS code. You will need to enter this code when entering course preferences in the application form. The CRICOS code is a 7-digit code (e.g. 123456A). If you are unsure, search for the course name and “CRICOS”.
- Please submit all the required documents with your application. Details of these documents and their certification are on the previous page of this document.
- You do not need to have a current IELTS score to apply for this scholarship. If you are invited to an interview, we may ask you to sit an English competency test. The fees for this test would be paid by Australia Awards. If you are awarded a scholarship and your English level is not at the level required by your university of choice, you may be eligible for up to 12 months of English study funded by the Australian Government.
- When answering the application questions, consider the question carefully and be specific in your answers. For example, try to outline your role in your work and describe how you approached a challenge.
- Remember that copying or plagiarism is not tolerated and may result in ineligibility.
